

14) Dice Serving:

Fun serving game for 1 or 2 players.

This game can be played by a single player against the dice or two players against each other.

Players serve into one of the six ground targets for the serve as shown in the diagram.

The player rolls a dice and whatever number comes up is the target area he must hit on the next serve.

If they hit the proper target area, they are ahead 15-love, if they miss it, they're down love-15. Players playing by themselves can play an entire set against themselves and its great practice.

Players that are playing against each other still use the dice, but then they play a game of HORSE here they must match the other server's results.

We love this game because it makes serving fun when it's typically boring.
